ORDER GRANTING MOTION FOR ENTRY OF DEFAULT

Re: Dkt. No. 184

12
13 On October 22, 2013, the plaintiffs filed Plaintiffs' Request For Clerk To Enter Default
14 Against Defendants Zaazoom Solutions, LLC, Zaza Pay LLC, Multiecom, LLC, Online Resource
15 Center, LLC, Automated Electronic Checking, Inc., and Data Processing Systems, LLC
16 (collectively, "the Zaazoom defendants"), because each of these entities has been unrepresented by 17 licensed counsel since the death of Dennis A. Winston, Esq., their previous counsel, on July 17,
18 2013. On October 24, 2013, the Court ordered the Zaazoom defendants to show cause why 19 default and default judgment should not be entered against them for not being represented by 20 counsel before the Court. Dkt. No. 187 ("Order"). In particular, the Court ordered the Zaazoom 21 defendants to respond within 30 days or default shall be entered against them, and ordered the 22 plaintiffs to serve the Order on the Zaazoom defendants by mail. The Court stated that the Order
23 shall be vacated if counsel appears on behalf of the Zaazoom defendants. The plaintiffs certified
24 that they have served the Zaazoom defendants. Dkt. No. 188.

25 The docket reflects that Data Processing Systems, LLC, is represented by the law firm of 26 Sheppard Mullin Richter & Hampton LLP. However, none of the other Zaazoom defendants have 27 responded to the Order, nor has counsel appeared for them.

28 As the Court explained in its Order, corporations and limited liability companies can only

1 appear in federal court through counsel. Rowland v. Calif. Men's Colony, Unit II Men's Advisory
2 Council, 506 US 194, 202 (1993); United States v. High Country Broad. Co., 3 F. 3d 1244, 1245
3 (9th Cir. 1993); CIVIL LOCAL RULE 3-9(b) ("A corporation, unincorporated association,
4 partnership or other such entity may appear only through a member of the bar of this Court.").

5 Because defendants Zaazoom Solutions, LLC, Zaza Pay LLC, Multiecom, LLC, Online
6 Resource Center, LLC, and Automated Electronic Checking, Inc., have not responded to the 7 Order, nor has counsel appeared on their behalf, the Court ORDERS that default judgment be 8 entered against them.

9 IT IS SO ORDERED.
